

TIMESHEET

Timesheet Culture.

"If work is not in timesheet, it did not happen"

What is Timesheet Culture

- 1.Expects a clarity of Work that one needs to own and to be done.
- 2.Expects a clarity in terms of what exactly is the expectations with less of Assumptions and approximation.
- 3.Expect as a plan of action with respect to breaking down expectations into tasks.
- 4.Expects a rough or fair Work Break Down, to support your clarity when you start and supported as Expected Time and Due Date, with valid reason this may change/update in some cases.
- 5.From the start of activity [Step 1] to arrive at a plan [step 4] action prior execution could be sometimes a Task/s to define and achieve and should be recorded in the same fashion.
- 6.Expect updates as per expectations.
- 7.Expect a timesheet supporting we are adhering to expectations set and we building a supporting structure to align How much spent on where and finally arrive at profitability or Cost being incurred in the process.

Clarity of Work

- 1.In a Top Down manner, every leader and manager [PM, Sr. FC, FC, TL] should have a clarity of expectations for at least a month to 15 days.
- 2.Every following team member should have a clarity of approx. a week or more.
- 3.All other non-operational team mates should follow a process of Monthly Goals, Weekly Goals or Plan a Week ahead. And any ad-hoc tasks added as required will follow the course of action as desired.
- 4.Expectations are all the desired clarity, discussions and detailing of the work is in place, owning the entire piece of work in a bucket or delegated to respective team members internally to take care of.
- 5.Clarity of work may belong to different projects to cover the window of timezone expected to have a clarity of, with proper priority defined and assigned, if in case multiple projects Or delegated properly to care of in case of agreed parallel priority activities.

Plan

1. All the clarity of Work for Month or 15 Days milestones, or bottom activities should have Estimated efforts updated and Due Date to bring in the Weeks plan alive.
2. As well this will give occupancy of the team for the period of time, to plan them better.
3. All the estimated efforts must be in multiples of 4 Hours Max or anything less than 4 hours. Only milestone activities or parent task might have efforts more than 4 hours or 8 hours etc.. as efforts and due date beyond a day.
4. This plan should be active and published well in advance of the week in the last week or last working day of the last week [in case of holiday or leaves] or Friday/Saturday whichever is higher.

Timesheet

1. Everyone must update the timesheet daily, within or at the end of the day.
2. Everyone must close the due tasks within the due time or the day.
3. Everyone must close all the due tasks and timesheets before the start of the third day [even if not working] at max. [on or before 8 AM]
4. Outdated tasks and not filled in timesheets on the third day will be collated and escalated to respective Team Members and Managers as default.

Exceptions and Reporting

1. Every deviation in the task, its definition, scope/expectation deviation, efforts change, due date updates/change MUST be amended to match if there is change from Customer/Expectations or things not in our control before the due date by respective PM, with a reason. Every day attendance will be processed based on the timesheet filled in for the day, where 8 Hours = Day and 4 Hours = Half Day.
2. Every Thursday review of defaulters [not filling timesheets or not having a plan in place] will happen, which will be discussed and concluded.
3. Agreed defaulters have the onus on delayed/pending Task closure. Any additional hours to be expensed to complete agreed task/s managed by the user without any compensation or consideration of any kind.

Validations

1. Every day min 8 hours and weekly 40 hours of timesheet (excluding leaves or holidays hours if any) should be booked. If the timesheet hours are less [$\geq 10\%$, 7 to 7.5 Hours] or exorbitantly high [$\leq 10\%$, 9 to 10 Hours] then the alert or notification should go to that person, manager/LFC and the HR.
2. Overall monthly hours should be close to 160 hours (or working days x 8 hours). If it is lesser or exorbitantly higher then again alert or notifications to that person, manager/LFC and the HR.
3. If someone is missing it three times in a month then leave applications can be blocked and if someone still takes leaves then it will be treated as a LOP. And the system will be revoked after a meeting with respective Manager & HR, and concerns are agreed and addressed in the system appropriately.
4. If it happens 5 times or more in a month then the salary can be put on hold until a meeting happens with Management & HR.
